Staff Development Survey

BACKGROUND:

Instructional staff were invited to respond to a survey to indicate staff development needs and/or interests:

BCPS Instructional Staff,

As we begin the last quarter of the 2011-12 school year, it is time to begin planning in earnest for our 2012-13 professional development programs. Per our approved calendar for next year, there are three days set aside during preschool workdays for staff development, there are two half-day inservice dates later in the year, and another full-day of inservice, in addition to other opportunities that may develop during the year. There will be both school-wide and division-wide topics for some of our staff development time, but we will also schedule workshops of interest to both small and large groups of staff. So, tell us what you need!

Our professional development survey is intentionally ‘general’ this year—we don’t want to pigeon-hole your decisions about what topics and/or types of professional development you need. Conversely, we need you to be very specific about what you’re asking for. Please focus on outcomes as you respond—what is it that you want to be able to do as a result of the inservice? What should your students be able to do after your successful implementation of the program? Again, please be specific so that we are more likely to help you achieve your goals.

Please complete the survey by Wednesday, April 18. Thanks!!
